Overview

Effective communication is essential for marketing and sales success. Messages must connect with prospects and attractive visuals should capture attention. The goal of this Marketing Toolkit is to arm program providers with the language, visuals, and tools needed to connect with the market.

Positioning language offered works to define the program and its benefits. This language is then applied for use in an elevator speech, sample sales letter, and talking points. It is recommended that you review, appreciate, and customize these pieces with your college name and contact information where appropriate for immediate use.

A visual style has been developed for all tools that are a blend between youthful circles and action-oriented arrows along with a techy-type font. The colors used correspond with the ICCB logo and generally work well when used with other college logos. The approach is somewhat conservative based on the audience, yet still filled with youth and vitality.

In addition to language support, templates provided include a tri-fold brochure that can be customized with your logo and a complete PowerPoint presentation – that includes an outline with presentation content for each slide. With the addition of your logo and contact information on these pieces, one is immediately ready to offer an impressive speech. In addition, we have provided you with sample social media posts for both Facebook and LinkedIn platforms. Note that Facebook samples will be more brief or social, while LinkedIn posts allow for longer conversational content. Both platforms have merit for use in this type of marketing effort.

The last piece presented is an animated explainer video that will work to gain attention and prompt quick understanding of your offering. All digital files will be provided for use and customization. Business Builders Marketing is a resource for program providers in need of customization services. Please reach out with any questions or needs you have.
IT Apprenticeship Program and Benefits

Below please find multi-purpose content that introduces the program and its benefits. This content is developed to be highly relatable and somewhat general so it can be modified to be effective program communication. As you can see in the applications that follow, once established, this content forms the foundation for all other communications.

Apprenticeship program recruitment challenges are nothing new in the IT field. We all know that many positions require very specific skills and training. We also know that many of the applicants can be as original as the need itself! Sometimes top candidates are passive and aren’t looking for a new role. Other times they are seeking high salaries. And managers frequently report that IT candidates can be hard to connect with based on current job constraints, language barriers, and communication preferences. So, how can companies that rely on IT professionals thrive?

Solving the IT demands of today requires a new approach. We're doing that through customized apprenticeship programs that integrate classroom learning with paid employment. Our unique programs create pathways for individuals to gain the skills they need for employment and enable you to gain an affordable and reliable workforce. Would you like a risk-free, affordable workforce? Look no further. IT Apprenticeship programs offer the following benefits:

• Affordable, Motivated Staff. Our customized apprenticeship programs enable organizations to benefit from affordable, motivated IT support during a time when it is very hard to find qualified staff. This will allow your organization to stay competitive and productive.

• Risk-Free Hires. You will have time to vet all candidates and evaluate skills, so you don’t need to invest in someone who is not the right match for your needs. Everyone wins with this risk-free program.

• Train Your Way! You will be able to train your apprentices with your processes and procedure, offering specific instruction as to exactly how you want things done. Your new team member won’t come with biases or past clouded concerns, instead, you’ll gain a compliant employee ready to listen and learn.

• Positive, Production. With time to train, you’ll get the opportunity to instill your company’s culture into your candidate’s frame of reference. This very important element of employee satisfaction, can help you keep a positive, productive employee for life.

• Permanent Placements. Know that your training will pay off! In fact, 94% of apprentices who complete an apprenticeship program retain employment; they appreciate the program and their training. What an amazing benefit for both the worker and the employer!

Employee Retention. What’s nice about this program, is that you’ve invested in the training of talent that tends not only to stay but to perform exactly as you have trained them too! The mutual satisfaction of both parties tends to result in high retention rates among permanent placements.

Apprenticeship programs have come a long way from past programs that were cost-prohibitive and bogged down with preventative paperwork. Today, there are flexible, yet structured programs in place that address business needs efficiently, as we are all united in our goals.

Opportunities exist in all areas of IT, however, we know that everyone’s needs are unique. Connect with our apprenticeship experts today so we can determine your needs and build your ideal program. Let us provide you with your workforce of the future, so you can reach your organizational goals.
