Supporting Students at a Distance: What We've Learned So Far

Meaghan Young-Stephens & Denise Guzman
Completion and Transition Specialists

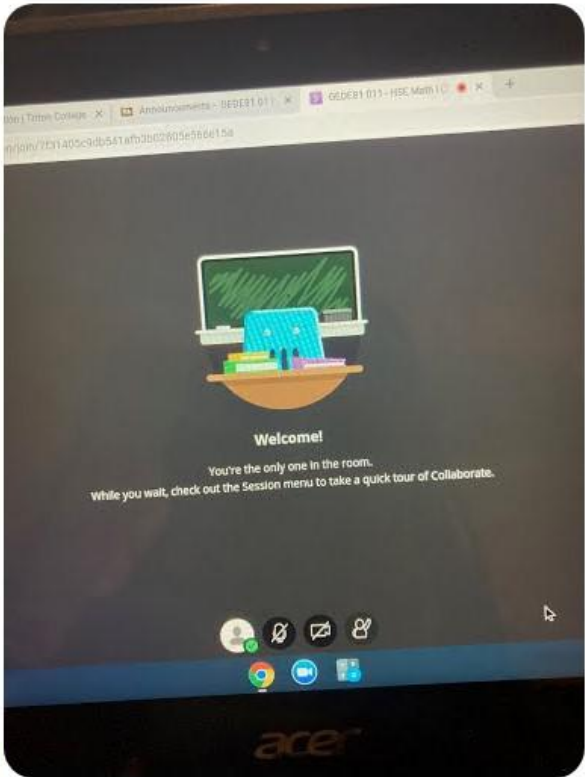

Reaching Our Students

- Don't assume
- Follow students' lead on how to connect with them
 - Texting is our new favorite thing!
 - Think about access and about comfort
 - One step at a time
- Remember the importance of human connection

That's because your class meets on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays :-)

So you should click the same link tomorrow night at 6pm

Hi [redacted] This is Meaghan from Triton. How are you? I'm reaching out because your math instructor mentioned that you missed a lot of class recently, so I wanted to check in and make sure everything's ok. Are you running into any issues or questions? Please let me know how I can help :-)

Hi Meaghan,

Thank you for reaching out. I have been at work the past 2 weeks and it's been hard trying to find time for everything plus my son had a fever that stayed for 4 days. I'm not going to lie I have been exhausted 😞 I really want this but I can't keep up with both classes, work full time and parent 5 kids and care for my sick mom. 😭 I have been back and forth on switch class should I continue with first but I'm not sure. My heart is saying math but I know my reading and writing is very much needed as well.

Recognizing Student Success

- Celebrate together!
- Invite transitioning students to speak at virtual orientation events
- Spotlight students on social media (photos and videos)
